

Peter and Kumschick chase Andrew Wareing's Williams FW08 at Oulton Park.

Historic Formula 1 enthusiasts Urs Eberhardt, Freddy Kumschick and Hans Peter formed a Swiss enclave in the Oulton Park paddock on Saturday.

Lotus enthusiast (and specialist garagiste) Kumschick raced both the ex-Mario Andretti/Nigel Mansell Essex 81 in the F1 event and a Formula Junior 27. The latter was supplied new to Karl Foitek, father of EuroBrun's Gregor.

Eberhardt ran the Williams FW08C in which Jonathan Palmer made his GP debut at Brands in '83, and another of the monocoque 27 Juniors in the Pre-'65 event. Peter competed in his Tyrrell 007.

Kumschick is currently completing the restoration of an ex-Jochen Rindt/Wilson Fittipaldi Lotus 69 F2 chassis, incidentally. He also intends to race this in England next year.
